

PROFESSIONAL LECTURE SERIES

PREPARE YOURSELF AS A TEAM MEMBER

25TH SEPTEMBER 2021

The Institute organized a professional lecture on the topic “Prepare yourself as a Team Member” for the students of BBA semester III on 25th September 2021.

Mr. Atma Godara, Product HR Generalist for Netflix in APAC, delivered the session. Netflix is an American over-the-top media service and original programming production company. It offers subscription-based video on demand from a library of films and television series, 40% of which is Netflix original programming produced in-house. Netflix also plays a prominent role in independent film distribution.

Mr. Godara specializes in areas like HR Business Partnering, HR Analytics, Digital transformation, Employee Engagement and many more. He has been working with educational institutions to speak on topics like Campus to Corporate, Digital Transformation and Change Management. Mr. Godara has been identified as dynamic HR leader by Economic Times HR Survey in 2021 and 40 under 40 HR leaders by Journey.

The workshop was highly interactive. The resource person encouraged the students to ask questions. He effectively guided the students by answering their queries related to the corporate world, networking and career planning. He also presented a detailed analysis regarding the characteristics of a good team member and conflict solving. The interaction between the students and Mr. Godara was insightful and motivating. The immersive lecture concluded with a vote of thanks.

Prepared by: Dr. Monica Trakru, Assistant Professor, GIBS