ABOUT THE FDP

The 7 Days Faculty Development Programme on "Harnessing AI in Academic Research: Innovations, Tools, and Ethical Practices " aims to equip academicians with cutting-edge skills to integrate artificial intelligence effectively into research practices. Over the course of seven days, participants will explore AI-driven tools for literature reviews, data analysis, content generation, and citation management. Practical sessions will offer hands-on experience, enhancing their proficiency in AI applications. This FDP also emphasizes ethical considerations, including responsible AI use and plagiarism prevention. By combining theoretical insights with practical expertise, the program empowers researchers to leverage AI tools to enhance academic output, boost efficiency, and adapt to emerging research methodologies and trends.

This Faculty Development Program (FDP) addresses these needs, offering hands-on training, best practices, and ethical considerations, enabling participants to harness AI's full potential in academic research while adhering to scholarly integrity.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Faculty Members / Industry persons/ Research Scholars from stream of Management and Law can attend the program. This FDP is ideal for those looking to enhance their research capabilities, improve their data analysis skills, and contribute meaningfully to the academic and professional research landscape.

OBJECTIVES OF FDP

1. To introduce participants to the significance of AI in academic research, exploring its impact on research methodologies and academic disciplines.
2. To provide hands-on training on AI-powered tools for literature reviews, content generation, presentation creation, and referencing management, enhancing participants' research productivity.
3. To develop participants' skills in applying AI tools for systematic literature reviews, bibliometric analysis, abstract generation, and citation management, fostering practical knowledge for academic research.

FDP OUTCOME

By the end of this Faculty Development Program (FDP), participants will gain a robust understanding of AI's transformative role in academic research. They will develop proficiency in using AI tools for literature reviews, data collection, systematic literature reviews (SLR), and bibliometric analyses. Attendees will enhance their ability to generate structured abstracts and outlines, manage citations using tools and produce high-quality research content through AI-powered platforms. Moreover, participants will cultivate ethical practices in AI usage, effectively address plagiarism concerns, and stay updated on emerging trends and methodologies in AI-driven research, significantly boosting their academic productivity and integrity.

REGISTRATION FEE PER PARTICIPANT

- (a) For Industry Person, External Faculty and Research Scholars of Management and Law @ Rs.1999/- (offline) and Rs. 999/- (online) and per session cost @ Rs. 250/- (offline).

Note:

- E-Certificates will be issued to all the registered participants who will attend the sessions regularly and fill the regular feedback.
