

NDLI SKILL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP
AIR ONLINE - SOFTWARE DEMONSTRATION
31ST OCTOBER 2025 (THURSDAY)

Gitarattan International Business School organized an online NDLI Skill Development Workshop on “AIR ONLINE – Software Demonstration” on 31st October 2025. The workshop was conducted exclusively for the students with the objective of enhancing their understanding of AIR Online, a comprehensive legal research platform widely recognized in the Indian legal domain. The platform provides an extensive database of Indian legal resources, including judgments, articles, bare acts, and legislative updates, making it an essential tool for legal professionals, academicians, researchers, and students.

The session was conducted online by Mr. Amit Singhal, Sales Manager, AIR Online. He provided a detailed demonstration of the functioning of the AIR Online platform and elaborated on the various services offered. He highlighted key features such as the Judgment Database, Articles and Legal Updates, Bare Acts, and the User-Friendly Search, Bookmarking, and Review tools. He also emphasized how AIR Online can significantly support academicians in research, teaching preparation, and keeping themselves updated with recent legal developments.

During the workshop, Mr. Singhal showcased modern features such as AI-assisted search tools, case history tracking, and citation validation tools that help users verify how a judgment has been treated in subsequent cases. He also explained the bookmarking options, creation of personalized research folders, annotation tools, and the availability of judgments and articles for download in multiple formats. He emphasized how AIR Online supports academicians by enabling them to prepare lectures with updated information, conduct in-depth research for publications, guide students effectively, and stay informed about the latest legal developments through daily and weekly updates provided within the platform.

Overall, the online workshop proved to be highly informative and beneficial. It was a valuable learning experience for the students, enabling them to explore a robust digital legal resource that can enhance their academic and research work.
